MISCELLANEOUS READING.

AN ANCIENT TOAST. It was a grand day in the old chivalric time-the wine circling around the board in a nuble hall, and the sculptured walls rang with sentiments and song. The lady of knightly beart was pledged aloud by name, and many a syllable significant of leveliness had been uttered, until it came to St. Leon's turn, when, lifting the sparkling cup on high-"I drink to one," he said, "Whose image never may depart, Deep graven on this grateful heart, Till memory is dead. "To one whose love for me shall last, When lighter passions long have passed, So holy 'tis and true:

To one whose love bath longer dwelt, More deeply fixed, more keenly felt, Than any pledged to you.' Each guest upstarted at the word, And laid his hand upon his sword, With 'ury flashing eyes; And Stanley said, "we crave the name, Proud knight of this most peerless dame, Whose love you count so high." St. Leon paused, as if he would Not breathe her name in careless mood, Thus lightly to another; Then bent his noble head as though To give that word the reverence due, And gently said, "My Mother!"

FASHIONABLE WEDDINGS. Some wicked porson has been having a sly dash at a fashionable wedding : Four-and-twenty bridegrooms all in a row; Four-and-twenty dandies, dressed from tip to toe

Four and twenty grimaces, four and twenty And the carriages extending, four and twenty miles. Four-and-twenty bridesmaids dressed in hoop and feather, Eight-and-forty Nimshies standing all together, The bride ringed and jewelled, The groom gloved and glum, And both of them look foolish, And both of them are dumb, A thousand spectators To see the pretty match; A thousand tongues to whisper, "He's made quite a catch."

Eight-and-forty ninnies Marching out of church, Like so many schoolboys Running from the birch. Oh, what a sight to look upon, as ever I did see, The world makes a great fuss for nothing seems to me.

SLANG. The Richmond Whig has the following timely and judicious remarks: "The disease-for a disease it is-bas become universal. It rages wherever the English language is spoken. It is as inveterate at Calcutta, as it is here. It has often struck us as strange that the numerous editorial conventions which have met in various parts of the country during the last ten years, have all, as if by tacit consent, omitted to take any notice of this universal degeneracy of the language: There is much less slang to be found in the Southern Journals, than in the Northern--Tickets ordered, on receipt of which they will especially those of New York City. Journals professedly literary, are in no respect behind their contures plain, and give their Post Office, County, temporaries. It would repay the labor, to select all the slang from too or three of them -beginning with Harper's Magazine-for the last year. The collection would make
